Event Title: - Guest/Alumni Talk on "Human Resources as a Life Skill"

Date: 17/06/2023

Conduction Duration: One Hrs.

Venue: MBA I Class room

Resource Person: Miss. Payal Vig (Alumni)

Coordinator: Prof. Neha Wankhede

Objective:

1. To provide students with insights into the importance of human resources as a life skill.
2. To expose students to practical strategies and techniques related to effective communication, conflict resolution, team management, and leadership development.

About The Program:

The department of MBA SITRC, recently organized a highly informative and engaging lecture on "Human Resources as a Life Skill" for our students. The event featured the esteemed alumni speaker, Miss Payal Vig, a seasoned HR consultant with extensive experience, including work in the UAE.

During the event, Miss Payal Vig delivered a captivating presentation, highlighting the importance of human resources as a life skill. She emphasized the practical aspects of HR, including effective communication, conflict resolution, team management, and leadership development. Miss Payal Vig's insights were based on her extensive professional journey, which resonated deeply with the attendees.

The lecture provided an interactive platform for our students to engage with Miss Payal Vig, allowing for an enriching exchange of ideas and experiences. Students actively participated in the question-and-answer session, seeking advice and clarifications on various HR-related topics.

As an institution committed to the holistic development of our students, we will continue to organize informative events that equip them with essential life skills. The success of this lecture series further motivates us to bring more alumni back to share their expertise and inspire the next generation.

Outcome:

- Increased awareness among students about the significance of human resources as a life skill and its application in various aspects of their personal and professional lives.
- Enhanced understanding of practical strategies and techniques for effective communication, conflict resolution, team management, and leadership development.
