ACADEMIC VISIT REPORT

National Institute of Securities Markets (NISM), Mumbai

Date of Visit: Saturday, 10 October 2026

1. Introduction

The Department of Management Studies (MBA), Sandip Institute of Technology & Research Centre (SITRC), Nashik, organised an academic visit to the National Institute of Securities Markets (NISM), located in the Mumbai region, on 10 October 2026. The visit was designed to strengthen the practical understanding of securities markets and to connect classroom learning with professional practices in the financial services sector.

2. Objectives of the Visit

- To familiarise MBA students with the role of NISM and the broader securities market ecosystem.
- To enhance awareness of investor education, financial literacy, ethical investment practices and investor protection.
- To encourage active student engagement through discussions and case-study presentations.
- To develop industry-oriented perspectives among MBA First Year and Second Year students.

3. Participation and Faculty Coordination

MBA First Year (FY) and MBA Second Year (SY) students participated in the visit. The following faculty members were present and actively contributed to the academic coordination and student engagement:

- Prof. Dr. Pravinkumar G. Shastri
- Prof. Dr. Vishwas Pendse
- Dr. Snehal Bagul
- Prof. Manoj Mahanubhav
- Prof. Sheetal Khandre
- Mrs. Pradnya Sabere

4. Academic Activities and Student Involvement

The visit coincided with the World Investor Week 2026 programme, as shown in the event photographs. The displayed programme themes included Investor Resilience, Digital Deception and Scam Alert. Students were exposed to discussions relevant to investor awareness, prudent financial decision-making and the importance of recognising misleading or fraudulent investment practices.

MBA FY and SY students took initiative in the academic activities and presented case-study work as part of their learning engagement. Faculty members encouraged participation, professional interaction and the application of financial-management concepts to practical situations.

5. Photographic Documentation

6. Learning Outcomes

- Improved understanding of the securities market and the significance of investor education.
- Greater awareness of digital deception, investment scams and the need for informed financial decisions.
- Enhanced analytical, communication and presentation skills through case-study participation.
- Stronger linkage between MBA finance coursework and contemporary financial-sector practices.

7. Acknowledgement

The Department of Management Studies expresses its sincere gratitude and special thanks to Prof. Dr. Amol Potgnatwar, Principal, SITRC, for his valuable guidance, encouragement and support in facilitating this academic visit. The department also appreciates the participation and cooperation of all faculty members, MBA FY and SY students, and the NISM programme team.

8. Conclusion

The academic visit to NISM on 10 October 2026 was a valuable experiential-learning initiative for MBA First Year and Second Year students. It contributed to financial-market awareness, practical learning and student confidence, while reinforcing the department's commitment to industry exposure and outcome-based management education.
